

Misfit Wine Co. 'Cycle Buff Beauty'

South Australia - Australia 2017

Like a 32 waist in a fat man store, Misfit Wine Co. doesn't seem to fit in. At the heart of this outfit are 3 unexpected wine souls, all about the produce, not about conforming to the current ideology of the 'wine selling set.' Chris Columbus wanna-be's are in business; Misfit Wine Co. is a part of a whole new winemaking culture ready to be discovered. Misfit Productions rejects convention, doing whatever it takes to make the best product possible.

This collection of wines really doesn't fit in anywhere. The labels? WTF! The blends? See aforementioned exclamation. What does fit is wild diversity and ultimately high quality. These wines will make every guest at a dinner party remember every sip of wine and certainly the labels. Offensive? Who cares!

This is a classic blend...hah. Really nothing classic about the blend. A Rhône varietal and a Bordeaux varietal? Certainly. It wasn't that long ago that Syrah (Hermitage) was sneaking itself into Bordeaux as the Bordelaise had a love affinity for Syrah. Swap a few barrels and accidentally do some blending! Fast forward to modern day Australia though and you have scantily clad ladies running away from a crazed biker gang. Malbec and Shiraz is just the beginning of the madness. The story on the back label does much better justice.

Composition

90% Shiraz - 10% Malbec

Yields

3.3 tons per acre

Vine Age

Average: 21 years old

Élevage

10 months in French barrique (20% new)

Production

2,500 cases

Tasting Notes

“ It is a taut, medium-bodied red inspired by Wendouree. It delivers bright cherry fruit, supple tannins and a crisp, mouthwatering finish. No, it's not Wendouree, but it's a fun red wine that sells for a song. ”

Reviews

The Wine Advocate (Joe Czerwinski) | 88 points